SUN DANCE

The Ute Indian Sun dance near Whiterocks has been visited this week by hundreds of people from the basin and other parts of the country. The dance this year was three or four weeks later than usual. The delay, it is said, was due to wrangling among peyote and anti-peyote believers.